It is gratifying, we say, to have an opinion so clearly and emphatically expressed as this is, and to have it corroborated by the Acting Governor trimself for no one can fail to see the vast importance of vesting such power in the Legislative Council, and nowhere else. This Colony has said oes) 'kissing went by favour,' and who could carry their vindictiveness to a perilous length. One section, therefore, which still stands in the Ordinance 1885, as it stood in previous enactments ought to be repealed or altered. reads as follows :- The Governor may, if he thinks fit, for any cause whatever order the Colonial Treasurer to refund the whole or any portion of any rates paid by any person. This section, of course, deals with refund only; but still it is not clearly defined, and the enunciation of the principle above referred to by the Colonial Treasurer ought to be a welcome one to the community.

From the remarks made by the Colonial

Treasurer (Hon. A. Lister) it is to be noted with satisfaction that the Execu-

No trace of a body could be found, however, till last night, when that of Lia Sz was picked up near the same spot.

As the result of a raid made on a house in Third Street by Inspector Swanston and some of his subordinates, ten men, chiefly coolies, were brought before Mr Wodehouse in the Police Court this morning, charged with having unlawfully kept, and been found in, a gambling house. Inspector Swanston stated that on the 1st insthe entered the house No. 56 Third Street by virtue of a warrant, and there found all the defendants in the act of rushing about the house, evidently in a panic. The place was a coolie-house, and occupied the first floor of the building. A chair came towards him and he got into it. When he got in, defendants, who were in charge of the chair, refused to carry him. He then lef the chair and told a constable to arrest the defendants. At the Police Station they said they did not want to carry him to the Pesk. P.C. 618 stated that on the occasion in question he saw Mr McCullock come out of the Victoria Hotel and heard him call for his chair. His own chair was not at hand, and he went into the defend auts' chair. His private chair by this time had come up, and after the coolies of both chairs had spoken to each other the defendants laid down their chair and refused to carry the complainant. At the complainant's request the witness then took the defendants in charge. His Worship remanded the case till Monday.

Tsoi Wa Kwong, the man who had been imprisoned, made a statement to the same effect, and added that he did not acknowledge anything when he was taken to prison, but simply went because he did not know what might happen to him. His Lordship, remarking that it seemed to him the parties were playing with the Court in some way, ordered the son of the defendant to be released."

> GENERAL Boulanger seems to have at last aroused the alarm of French. Statesmen. Jules Ferry has been hurling abuse at him and has been 'called out;' while the Prime Minister, Mr Rouvier, as will be seen from the following American telegram, has accused Boulanger of being concerned in an illegal manifestation :-Paris. the instability of Italian parliamentary majorities. He resigned and Signor Cairoli formed a ministry, which, however, only lasted a few months. Signor Depretis in December 1878 was again called to power, and formed a coalition exbinet including it certain proportions the chiefs of the various groups of the Chamber of Doputies. On the rejection of his Bill for the abolition of the Grist tax in 1879 he again resigned and was again succeeded by Signor Cairoli as leader of a new combination of the Left. This combination, however, did not last long, and Signor Cairoli was obliged to reconstruct his onbinet so as to include Signor Depretis as Minister of the Interior. At the time of the French expedition to Tunis Cairoli's ministry became unpopular and had to resign. After an unsuccessful attempt by Signor Stella to form a ministry, Signer Depretis again took the helm-of offairs and has been President of the Counmil of Ministers ever since.
